From those west of the Missouri river they have received very favorable replies, and also in many instances the eastern people have expressed themselves friendly to the white metal.

From Great Falls, Mon., their resolutions have been returned with 1,000 signatures on a roll of paper thirty-two feet long, which will be sent to the Congressional representative from that district for presentation. A similar petition, fifteen feet long, signed by 500 Salt Lake carpenters and joiners, has been forwarded to Delegate Rawlins for presentation to Congress. DIDN'T KNOW IT WAS LOADED.

A Young Man Shot, But Not Seriously Injured.

Yesterday afternoon a young man who gave the name of C. H. Harris, and who drives a delivery wagon for the Waanach bakery, was accidentally shot. It seems that Harris was driving along Second South street, west of Main, and was hauling a revolver which he thought was not loaded, when the weapon was discharged. The bullet entered the fleshy part of the right leg, between the hip and knee, and came out two inches below the knee. The injured man went to the office of Dr. Douglas, and the physician skillfully dressed the wound, which although not serious, will be painful.

Nature Demands a Tonic.

We ought never to forget, even those of us who possess vigorous health, that we are wasting out of the clock every day, work, so to speak, must eventually run down. This, of course, we cannot prevent, because it is in the ordinary course of nature, but we may retard the too speedy arrival of decay by the use of an invigorant which takes rank at every other—namely, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. This century has not witnessed a parallel success to this famous medicine, which not only sustains health by promoting vigor, but overcomes constipation, dyspepsia, chills and fever, nervousness, rheumatism and other disorders of the system, and an impoverished condition of the blood. The feeble, persons convalescing after exhausting disease and the aged derive great benefit from the use of this helpful and efficient tonic.

THE AGONY OVER AT LAST.

Mrs. Snyder Awarded the Custody of the Baby.

THE TUFTS DIVORCE CASE.

Counter Charges Filed by the Defendant Yesterday.

Orson H. Pettit and Others Ask That the Sprinkling Ordinance be Declared Void—The Case of Riepen vs. Norrell—Judgments Entered—Notes.

Argument on the motion to confirm the report of the referee, J. H. Harris, in the Tufts baby case was concluded before Judge Zane yesterday morning, and a decision rendered. In rendering an opinion in the matter his honor carefully reviewed the testimony and in doing so he bore down rather heavily on both the parties to the suit. He was of the opinion that Mrs. Tufts had acted with very little discretion in several instances but he did not believe from the evidence submitted that she had ever been guilty of adultery. Unfavorable comment was also made on Bart's actions at Ogden, where it was alleged that Mrs. Tufts was in a room with a man. In conclusion Judge Zane was of the opinion that the mother should have the custody of the child and hence modified the original decree in that regard, thus confirming the referee's report.

A short time ago one of Hunter's cows strayed away and he used Nunn's blooded horses to scour the range in search of her. The horses were not used to such rough condition and the trip left them in a very bad condition. Hence the prayer for damages.

BEFORE JUDGE BARTCH.

The Case of Riepen vs. Norrell—Other Business Transacted.

The case of Fritz Riepen vs. A. G. Norrell, United States court, Denver, was called up on a writ of review in Judge Bartch's court yesterday morning. Riepen alleged in his complaint that Cohn Brothers began a suit against him in Commissioner Martin's court on August 19, 1893, for $20.35. After he had been served with a summons he went before the commissioner and made an oral answer to the complaint, in which he denied the indebtedness. Later, Martin informed him that the case had been dismissed, and told him that he would have to pay the costs in the case, amounting to $4, as the plaintiffs had refused to do so. Riepen paid the amount and heard no more about the matter until July 10 of the present year when Constable Campbell informed him that an execution had been issued against him out of Commissioner Norrell's court for the amount originally sued upon. It appears from Commissioner Martin's docket which was transferred to Commissioner Norrell after the resignation of Martin, that the judgment was regularly rendered by the latter on September 30, 1892, by default.

The plaintiff asked that the execution and judgment be set aside, and the defendants asked leave to answer. The latter was granted and the former was argued and submitted.

A CONTESTED DIVORCE CASE.

An Answer and Cross Complaint Filed by Don Tufts.

In the divorce case of Laura G. Tufts vs. Don Carlos Tufts, the defendant, has filed his answer in the Third district court. He denies the allegations of the complaint in regard to his cruelty and habitual drunkenness and proceeds to make some very derogatory accusations against his wife. Mr. Tufts alleges in his answer that his helpmate, for the past three years, has been a drunkard, and that he has frequented saloons and acted in a manner unbecoming a woman by using profane and vulgar language. It is also alleged that in March of the present year, while in a saloon in an intoxicated condition Mrs. Tufts put a man's hat to a used to which it was clearly never intended, and that at divers times solicited men to have criminal relations with her. Mr. Tufts further denies that he is worth the amount claimed by his wife in her complaint, and alleges that his income does not exceed $1,150 per annum. He reiterates his application for temporary alimony on the grounds set out in his answer, and also files a number of affidavits to substantiate his allegations with regard to his wife's indiscretions.

The plaintiffs allege that the city has no right to levy a tax against them for the purposes named. Judge Barich has granted a temporary restraining order.

SUNDAY'S EMEUTE.

Escape of Seven Prisoners from the Penitentiary.

The Most Desperate One of the Lot Recaptured—The Other Six Still at Large.

The Sabbath calm and the peaceful slant of Wall Guard Wanstall at the penitentiary was rudely disturbed between the hours of 11 and 12 o'clock on Sunday morning by the excited announcement that the prisoners were escaping in a wholesale manner. The intelligence was hurriedly conveyed to Warden Young by Mr. A. H. K. Lockett, of Sugar House ward, who happened to be passing near the penitentiary and espied a number of convicts scaling the wall and lighting out for tall grass. On receipt of the startling intelligence the warden rushed out in time to see the seventh man disappear on the outside of the east wall. Mr. Young fired at the vanishing fugitive and thus unceremoniously awoke the slumbering guard. The shot had only the effect of accelerating the pace of the fleeing men, all but one of whom made good their escape. The unfortunate hindmost was taken—shot by the devil—but by Guard Ed Janney, about half a mile east of the penitentiary, and conveyed back to his old quarters.

As quickly as possible after the discovery of the escapes a number of guards and convicts were gotten together and the posse started in pursuit of the other six jail breakers, and later in the day Captain Deagan of the city police forced four deputy marshals and a number of other deputized men, but were unsuccessful in locating the fugitives.

Yesterday United States Marshal Brigham offered a reward of $50 each for the capture of the men and there are hundreds out searching and special officers are thickly stationed in the mountains and canyons around but up to an early hour this morning no trace of the flying convicts has been found.

The scheme of the prisoners to effect their escape had evidently been under consideration for some time as some of them had made themselves clothing from blankets and other materials which they quickly substituted for the prison clothes.

A twenty-five foot rope and a strong hook provided the means of escape. The rope was obtained from the cell hammocks and the hook was manufactured out of bucked rails taken from the night buckets. The hook was thickly wrapped with flannel and thus all noise was prevented.

It now appears that the guard was in the habit of taking a nap in the heat of the day inside the sentry box and the prisoners got "on to" the fact and for some time previous to making the attempt of taking a nap in the sentry box, his slumbers by throwing pebbles against the sentry box and when these his hard enough the sleepy head would pop out and reveal the bleared eyes that the mate had been asleep. There are two wall guards on duty simultaneously, and they are on duty twelve hours at a stretch. The two day men go on at 6 a. m. and
